

POST-DOCTORAL POSITION IN READING COMPREHENSION

Applications are invited for a post-doctoral position in the Department of Psychology, University of California, Davis. The research is funded by an NIH/NICHHD grant directed by Dr. Debra Long. The project is a large-scale study investigating individual differences in cognitive abilities and reading comprehension. The data-collection phase of the project is complete and the data-analysis phase is about to begin. We are interested in postdoctoral fellows with expertise in the areas of reading, psycholinguistics, or computational linguistics. We are particularly interested in applicants with strong quantitative skills. The position is available for one year, renewable for a second year depending on progress.

Interested applicants should send a personal statement describing their training, research interests and career goals, a curriculum vitae, and names and contact information for three references to Debra Long at DLLong@UCDavis.edu. Review of applications will begin IMMEDIATELY and continue until the position has been filled. The anticipated start date is Sept 1, 2009.
