

Quantitative Methodology in the Social Sciences
College of Literature, Science and the Arts
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor

The College of Literature, Science and the Arts at the University of Michigan, Ann Arbor is seeking to recruit one or more quantitative methodologists in the social sciences. This is part of a college-wide initiative to extend long-standing strengths in the quantitative social sciences. Participating departments include Communication Studies, Economics, Political Science, Psychology, Sociology, and Statistics.

Faculty at all levels will be considered. Senior, tenured faculty will typically have a joint appointment in two departments and must be top scholars whose expertise strikes a balance between disciplinary specialization and general methodological development. Junior candidates should also have disciplinary and strong methodology interests.

Candidates at Assistant Professor level should send vitae, three reference letters, statement of current and future research plans, statement of teaching philosophy and experience, evidence of teaching excellence, and copies of selected publications to:
