

The Department of Psychology and Neuroscience at Baylor University invites applications for a tenure track position at the assistant professor level effective fall 2012.

The ideal candidate will have strong quantitative expertise and be able to maintain an independent program of research. Although area of specialization is open, we are interested in applicants who can contribute to one of the tracks in our Psychology Ph.D. program (Social, General Experimental, and Behavioral Neuroscience). The position entails teaching statistics at the undergraduate and graduate level as well as contributing in the respective area of focus. A commitment to excellence in teaching as well as the potential to attract external funding is essential.

More detailed information about the department and Ph.D. program can be found at www.baylor.edu/psychologyneuroscience (follow graduate program link).

Review of applications will begin November 7, 2011 and will continue until the position is filled. To ensure full consideration, complete applications must be submitted by November 1, 2011.

To apply send a letter of interest, curriculum vitae, representative reprints, and three letters of recommendation to Dr. Wade Rowatt, Search Committee Chair, Department of Psychology and Neuroscience, One Bear Place 97334, Waco, TX 76798. E-mail inquiries to Wade_Rowatt@baylor.edu.

Baylor, the world's largest Baptist University, holds a Carnegie classification as a "high-research" institution. Baylor University is a moderate size university (14,000 students) and Waco is a temperate, low-cost metropolitan area of 200,000 plus people. Baylor's mission is to educate men and women for worldwide leadership and service by integrating academic excellence and Christian commitment within a caring community. Baylor is actively recruiting new faculty with a strong commitment to the classroom and an equally strong commitment to discovering new knowledge as Baylor aspires to become a top tier research university while reaffirming and deepening its distinctive Christian mission as described in Baylor 2012 (<http://www.baylor.edu/vision/>).

Baylor is a Baptist university affiliated with the Baptist General Convention of Texas. As an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer, Baylor encourages minorities, women, veterans, & persons with disabilities to apply.

<http://jobs.psyccareers.com/jobs#/detail/4425512>